ETC. THIS WORLD OF MUSIC

(From Other Colleges)

Western to Make First Broadcast in October

Western, at Alhambra, Ill., will go on the air for the first time this year on October 3 from 12:30 to 2:30. The station will be taken largely from the Radio Speech class. There will be thirty programs of forty-five minutes in length this year. These shows will be more diversified, including humor, drama, music, and news analysis.

New Events Are Added to Bradley Homecoming

Major revisions have been made in Homecoming celebrations at Bradley this year. One addition to the festivity will be the Homecoming queen with two maids of honor.

Prior to this year stunt shows of competitive nature were presented, but this year a play will be presented in place of the stunt shows.

Pieces for the best society and fraternal groups are to be given by judges immediately preceding the Homecoming game.

The main competitive efforts will be centered about house decorations which will continue this year as before.

New Cut System inaugurated at Millikin

A new cut system which will inflict severe penalties for truancy has been inaugurated at Millikin this fall. The new regulations are a one-semester trial and will be retained after that time only if it proves successful.

Students may earn the privilege of voluntary attendance by assisting for the honor roll. Students who have not been expected to register in their attendance but no check will be made by the instructors.

The purpose of this new system is to make a uniform penalty. In the old system all lack of attendance was just recorded as a "cut" and the student who might have been ill was nevertheless regarded as being unsatisfactory in class attendance.

Jobs of the Week from the McKendree Review

A tramp had been admitted to the casual ward of an English workhouse one evening, and the following morning he had disappeared before the master.

"Have you taken a bath this morning?" was the first question he was asked.

"No, sir," answered the man in an apologetic, "is there one remaining?"

Eight Students Eligible For Sigma Tau Delta

The Sigma Tau Delta, professional English fraternity on the campus, began its season's activities at a meeting Wednesday, September 23, by suggesting and voting on a new membership list of candidates included about five English majors and three others eligible for associate membership. The names will be announced soon.

Officers

The officers of the organization who have returned to school are: Dorothy Downey, Vice President, acting in place of Norma Sparks. President, who is not in school this year, Caroline Pulp, Secretary; Irene Urbank, Treasurer; Mary Kula Bowers, Historian.

Humanities Room

In its activities this year, the Sigma Tau Delta is planning to complete the Humanities room on the fourth floor of old Main. The room is a large, rectangular chamber with a huge, semi-circular window facing the west. Although it still needs a great deal more to it before it can be used, it presents attractive possibilities for the use of Humanities students.

Another activity in which the fraternity may participate this year is the selling of the Pocket series of books. As yet this project is indefinite. The original plan was to encourage the college bookstores to handle the more expensive volumes of books. Then the idea developed of the fraternity selling them, if satisfactory arrangements can be made, the plan may be put into operation; but it is still in the planning stage.

Contributions Wanted

The fraternity is particularly anxious to secure contributions from members or former members for the Reprint, the official publication of Sigma Tau Delta. Present or former members are eligible, and all contributions should be handed to Miss Tower before October 5 at the very latest.

There will be a meeting for all members as well as any alumni in the English office at 4 o'clock on Tuesday, September 25.

By BEETHOVEN

A Yugoslav guerrilla marching song, with one set of words for the present fight and another for use after victory, has been smuggled into this country and will shortly be introduced in the United States. "Awake, New Slovenia" is its title, and the two Slovenian students who wrote it hope that frequent broadcasts of the song from the United States will help to spread it in Yugoslavia, where it will be heard secretly on the radio.

The march was brought to this country by an American citizen who escaped from Yugoslavia. He turned it over to Francis A. Sato, the Minister of State of the Yugoslav government in exile. It has been recorded by Jascha Heifetz and will be issued by a record company conducted by Keynote Records in an album along with seven other guerrilla songs.

The melody starts with the "V" motive from Beethoven's Fifth symphony. It begins: "Wake up, Yugoslav, now is the day when a new day does shall smile upon you." The verse for after the war includes the exhortation to "fortify your frontiers with zealous care," and concludes: "One hope shall be free eternally, a state to no one, a shelter to all."

Yehudi Menuhin, Albert Spalding, Gladys Swarthout, Paul Robeson, Dennis Taylor, Lucy Mervin, Corporation, and Carroll Olsen are among the musicians who have entertained the service men at the American Theatre Wing Stage Door Canteen in New York. The report is that, contrary to the popular impression, the soldiers' entertainers and musicians like the concert and opera artists as much as the lighter and popular entertainers. Also many of the men have asked the canteen if it can provide tickets for concerts, operas, and ballet performances.

Since the American and English cities spoke in reviewing Shostakovich's Seventh Symphony, of his debt to Mahler, the American Music Corporation has received a request from Shostakovich that it send him the higher scores.

GRACE NOTES:

This season the lobby of the Metropolitan Opera may be decorated with huge photographic enlargements of singers in leading roles. Clifford Hopton, baritone, who won one of the Metropolitan auditions of the air, will not be able to appear this season at the Metropolitan. He has enlisted in the Navy.

OFF THE RECORDS:

Teddy Wilson is one of the best of the jazz pianists. He does not act at all the excessive ornamentation of the distasteful distortions of rhythm and color that some of the boys employ. His work is clean and yet sophisticated. He has an album in which (Columbia C-93, four 10-inch records) in which you can sample his talents as a pianist. He plays Smoke Gets on Your Eyes, Then There Was a Time, These Foolish Things, Rosetta, I Can't Get Started, I Know That You Know, Body and Soul, and China Boy.

Another letter for the Gift Club came from Scott Field, Ill. "I would like to thank you for the 1942 Oblisk. It is very nice and I am very happy to have a copy of my own."

"I find that it contains items of interest about former classmates as to where they are and what they are doing, also those that are in some branch of the service."

"I am now attending the Communications School Officers Division at Scott Field. I find the Air Corps a wonderful branch of the service and enjoy my work here very much."

The letter is signed by Aviation Cadet William O. Maricle, Aviation Cadet.

Another of Southern's aviation cadets is Harold J. Cant, who is stationed at Foster Field, Victoria, Tex. He writes:

"I received my copy of the 1942 Oblisk the other day. I've spent hours looking through it. I can't tell you how I appreciate it and how much pleasure I get out of it."

"In fact, it made me so homesick that I'm getting a leave before long. I expect to be through Carbondale the morning of September 30 for a few hours. I hope I can get to see some of you at last."

"A couple of important things have happened to me since I last wrote you. On June 8 I was married. My wife was formerly Miss Margaret Merrick of Bloomington, Ill. We were married in the Post Chapel of Fort Sam Houston in San Antonio. And on June 19 I was promoted to the rank of first lieutenant. That completes the two big events."

ALEXANDER IMPORTANT LEADER IN SO. ILL. CIVILIAN DEFENSE

In addition to his position as instructor in the S.I.N.U. government department, Dr. Cyril Alexander is engaged in an important role as civilian defense duties. He is co-director of the Civilian Defense Council in the Crab Orchard area and head of the War Price and Rationing Board of Jackson county. His latest appointment, made by Governor Green, is as the Education Division of the Consumer Interest committee.

Dr. Alexander

Works With Civic Leaders As coordinator of the Crab Orchard defense area, which includes Jackson, Williamson, Franklin and Perry counties, Dr. Alexander works with the majors and city councils of this region in appointing and organizing committees for the various branches of home defense. Having worked in the Illinois Municipal League as consultant with the mayors and councils of Southern Illinois, Dr. Alexander had previously established himself as a leader in civic and municipal activities. These past contents have qualified him as a regional defense coordinator. Among the problems of civilian defense are the erection of air-raid shelters, appointment of air-raid wardens and special police, organization of first-aid and home nursing classes, and the instruction of school children in air raid procedure.

Served on Committee Last spring, Dr. Alexander served on a state committee for the proper education of consumers during the war emergency. Established under the price control program, this committee presented a series of instructive addresses before professional and civic clubs. Dr. Alexander's appointment to the Consumer Interest Committee came largely through his work on the former committee.

Since January 1, Dr. Alexander has given more than fifty lectures on civilian defense training in the Southern Illinois region. His work is typical of the outstanding service being given to the nation's war effort by members of the S.I.N.U. faculty.

FAULTY NUTRITION RESPONSIBLE FOR MANY DRAFT DISQUALIFICATIONS

In an analysis last year of selective service registrants found to be unqualified for general military service because of physical and mental reasons, percentages of the total registrations can be indicated for the following defects: Teeth, 20.5; eyes, 15.7; cardiovascular system, 10.6; musculo-skeletal, 6.8; venereal, 6.2; genital and nervous, 6.2; hernia, 6.2; scars, 4.8; feet, 4.0; lungs, 2.9; miscellaneous, 17.7.

All Caused By Poor Food Habits Faulty nutrition among American people supposedly the best fed in the world, was responsible for many defects listed under teeth, eyes, musculo-skeletal, mental and nervous, and lungs—a total of 44.5 percent.

In addition, the miscellaneous grouping included diseases of the mouth and gums, throat, abdomen, cutaneous disorders, underweight and overweight—all of which may originate with poor food habits.

The figures released by the Selective Service System emphasize a condition which has been evident in thinking people for some time but which becomes alarmingly important to Americans at this particular moment. No longer can we attribute the state of things to lack of food, but rather to a lack of proper food, for a great deal of timely material concerning the foods which are essential for optimal health is being distributed daily through advertising posters, magazines, newspapers, and health campaigns.

Southern Salutes

By CHARLES FOERNER

The Faculty Gift Club, which has done so much for Southern men in the service, still finds itself the recipient of letters of Southern men from far and near.

Among the recent letters received by the club is one from Floyd D. Browning, Service Co. 11th Inf., Fort Monroe, Virginia: "Just a few lines, thanking you for the gift I received from you some time ago. I appreciate the warmth you show toward the men in the service by sending them gifts and the Egyptian. I am sorry I did not answer sooner. . . . Hoping to hear from you soon."

On The Social FRONT

By MARIE WRIGHT.

Well, folks, I'm back again this week to give you first hand social news hot off the wires. I'll have to admit that the past week has been bubbling over with activity, but some of the organizations are keeping the tiny spark of life glowing.

Remember that to have a social column, we must have news. Any thing that is worth doing is worth telling about and this is one of the best places to tell.

Delta Sigma Epsilon

Delta Sigma Epsilon social society will be held to fifteen members of the Alpha Epsilon Chapter of Delta Sigma Epsilon of St. Louis, Missouri. The guests are students at Harris College in that city. They will be entertained by the local chapter from Friday until Sunday evening. The first open house will be held Friday evening, September 25, at the chapter house. A joint ceremony will be held for National Founders' Day Sunday afternoon, September 27th.

Chi Delta Chi

Chi Delta Chi social fraternity has pledged seven new members. They are the following: Malcom Patton, Charles Applegate, Bob Rawson, Bill Davis, Howard Street, Ellen Kelly, Pete Carter.

Also, the annual fall hayride was held Sept. 24, at Crab Orchard Lake. About thirty-five activities and pledges with their guests participated in the outing, which was the fraternity's first social event of the year.

Pi Kappa Sigma

Pi Kappa Sigma held its pledge election Monday, September 21. The new officers are the following: President, Pat Pulliam; vice president, Alice McDougall; secretary, Robert Wisely. There were also several active officers elected to fill vacant places. Vice president, Phyllis Jean Smith; sergeant-at-arms, Dorothy Reiman; news reporter, Esther Jane Craver; house president, Ella Miller. Ida Mae Jones and Dorothy Reiman were elected to serve on Panhellenic Council.

Sigma Sigma Sigma

At a pledge election of Sigma Sigma Sigma held Monday evening, the following girls were elected: President, Martha Grissom; vice president, Mildred DeKruze; secretary, Betty Randle; and news reporter, Lillian Goddard. Newly elected representatives to the Panhellenic Council are Pat Garfield, Kay Isom, and Betty Alton. The Tri Sigas also announce an open house which will be held October 3.

Harwood Hall

At a recent meeting of the members of Harwood Hall the following officers were elected: President, Louise MacCall; vice-president, James Wilson; secretary, Don Reynolds; treasurer, Eugene Peckles; sergeant at arms, Charles Pigg; corporal at arms, John Perenchio. The following men were also elected to the house committee: Bob Cleodwin, Johnny McConville, Eugene Peckles, and Carl Gasaway.

Methodist Youth Fellowship

The College Methodist Youth Fellowship of the First Methodist Church elected their officers and made plans for the fall and winter work on Sunday evening, September 20th. The officers elected are as follows:

President, Walter McDougall; vice-president, James Clifton; commission on world mission and dramatics, Dorothea Vaupeil and Al Geue; secretary, commission on community service, Grace Rasche, and Sam Hancock; commission on recreation, Marguerite Wilson; treasurer, secretary, Jean Vaupeil; and Walter McDougall; chairman, Helen Louise Stuffed; pianist, Norman L. Clarke; director of visual education, Delmar Lovell; editor, Norman Clarke.

Installation of these officers will be held at the morning service, October 4th.

The address of the evening was given by Dr. Frank D. Slats of Dayton, Ohio. The first edition of the "Voice of M.C.L.S." was handed to the audience. It was announced that Dr. W. G. Swartz would speak to the group next Sunday evening at 6:30.

Alpha Phi Alpha

Alpha Phi Alpha, Negro social fraternity, met on Saturday, Sept. 18, at the Delta House to hold an election of officers. This election was deemed necessary because the alumni forces had claimed most of the officers of the previous term.

MUSIC NOTES

Macdonald Club

This year twenty-five of the fifty members of the Macdonald Club are veterans of the club. They are now working toward a concert, but a first public appearance will probably be made the first part of October in chapel. Present officers of the Macdonald club are:

President—Betty Mercer.
Vice-President—Lucille Dusenbhart.
Secretary—Frances Douglas.
Treasurer—Bob Veach.

Charles Hamilton, back for his fourth year in the Macdonald Club, is still the leading tenor. Charles has won first in state and national contests. Others back for their fourth year in the service of the club include Lucille Dusenbhart and Bonnie Heller, sopranos, and Norman Clarke, tenor.

Some outstanding accomplishments of the freshmen members are as follows: Helen Mae Schwann, first in sectional; Mary Frances Gillespie, first in district contest; Joe Wayne Spence, winner in district contest last year; Homer Lee Johnson, second in state last year; David S. McIntosh, first in state last year and Robert Viggo, first in state and second in national.

Roland Hayes Club

Carlson P. Brown, tenor soloist of the Roland Hayes Club last year, is back again this year. Another outstanding singer in the club is Russell Williams, who has won first in state and also was a winner in the national contests.

Officers of the Roland Hayes Club this year are:

President—Alford Blackwell.
Vice-president—Lillian Davis.
Secretary—Regina Bruce.
Business manager—Henry Washington.

Band

The S. L. N. U. Band this year is a larger and better one than that of last year, in spite of the fact that there is a war going on. A third of the band is new, due probably to the four freshmen class. West Frankford is the number of new additions, with some coming from Cairo, Da Quin, Anna, East St. Louis, and Collinsville.

The concert band has about 70 members and the marching band "sixty." With the University of Illinois in the first year for the first time, policy of admitting girls to their band the presence of girls in the S. L. N. U. band seems to be in keeping with the times.

Appearing with the band this year also will be a corps of eight flag bearers. The new additions are: Eugene Weiser, Herb Darskiewicz, Pat Senavich, Maxine Ginn, and Dairine Kirk.

Mr. Bone, besides finding time for quite strenuous concert rehearsal, has begun work with the marching band and is expected by October 2 to have the marching band ready for the first parade in front of the band. The first parade will be on the flag raising ceremony with the appropriate band formations and the singing of the Star Spangled Banner.

Plans are already under way for Homecoming. Five schools have accepted the invitations to become a part of the sixth annual marching band festival consisting of massed block formations at the half of the Homecoming game. Whether or not many bands will be able to attend cannot be judged at this time. However, the S. L. N. U. band will present appropriate formations.

The other two games scheduled will be the band presenting a rural pageant on October 10, entitled "Oh, for the Life of the Farmer;" and the band presenting the title impales, and the band maneuvers for the final game November 16 will be turned over to a sequence planned to celebrate S. L. N. U. spirit and loyalty.

A regular election would not have been held until the latter part of November.

New officers elected were: Earl Brooks, president; Frank Owens, vice president; Henry Washington, secretary; Carlston Brown, sergeant at arms; and Leroy Duckworth, associate editor to the Sphinx.

A number of new members for the new pledges at the Delta House, and a number of men were formally pledged.

Code of Wartime Practices

Weather

Weather forecasts, other than officially issued by the Weather Bureau; the routine forecasts printed by any single newspaper to cover only the state in which it is published and not more than four adjoining states, portions of which lie within a radius of 150 miles from the point of publication.

Consolidated temperature tables covering more than 20 stations in any one newspaper.

Note—Any news stories about weather occurrences within the state of publication, and outside the state for an area not to exceed 150 miles from the point of publication, may be published; news stories about weather occurrences, especially extremes such as blizzards, snowstorms, hurricanes, tornadoes and floods, for areas other than the foregoing, will be accepted for publication only when specifically cleared through the Office of Censorship. Effects of weather conditions on sports events are appropriate for publication when used briefly to describe the condition of the grounds, or as reasons for postponing matches, such as "muddy field," "wet grounds," or "game called because of weather." Specific mention of such conditions as "blizzards," "tornadoes," "ice," "floods," "windy," "clear," or "sudden temperature drop" should be avoided.

Notes on Rumors

The spread of rumors in such a way that they will be accepted as facts will render aid and comfort to the enemy. The same is true of enemy propaganda or material calculated by the enemy to bring about division among the United Nations. Enemy claims of ship sinkings, or of other damage to our forces should be weighed carefully and the sources clearly identified, if published. Equal caution should be used in handling so-called "atrocity" stories.

Interviews with spies and civilians from combat zones should be submitted for authority either to the Office of Censorship or to the appropriate Army or Navy public relations officer.

Photograph and Maps

Photographs conveying the information specified in this summary including that of combatation, embarking troops, harbor views of convoys, military air fields in continental United States completed after December 7, 1941, or emergency airfields no matter when completed; harbor defenses; inland waterways, etc. Special care should be exercised in the publication of aerial photos presumably of non-military significance, which might reveal military or other information helpful to the enemy; no care should be exercised in publishing casualty photos so as not to reveal unit identifications through collar ornaments, etc. Special attention is directed to the section of this summary covering information about damage to military objectives.

Maps disclosing the location of military depots of any kind, such as air, quartermaster or ordnance depots, key war material plants; arsenals; ammunition or explosive plants of any kind.

Note—This has no reference to maps showing the general theater of war or large-scale zones of action, movements of contending forces on a large scale, or maps showing the general abode and flow of battle lines; or maps showing locations of military camps.

NEW W.P.A. RECREATION CENTER HAS PENTHOUSE LOOK: REPORTER

Recreation is one of the most essential items of today, because people in every walk of life are being in every way to help you relax and affected by the demon war. Mothers crying their hearts out for their sons on the front lines, fathers worrying about the life and limb of their sons in college daze, thinking of being drafted. All these things tend to keep us in a nervous state of mind and recreation is one of the things to modify the situation. Therefore, the W.P.A. Recreation Center here in the Carbondale, which is located next to the Carbondale Hotel building, East Main, offers every opportunity for recreation of all sorts.

Pleasant Interior

As you step inside you are pleasantly surprised. Instead of the drab and unattractive surroundings you usually find in such places you see beauty on every side. You are reminded of a swank Fifth Avenue penthouse located on Times Square. The furniture in the club room and lounge is very modernistic, blending with the rich color and design of the room. In one corner of the lounge stands a small statue and all the walls are beautifully decorated with colorful pictures in both crayon and oils. A piano stands in one corner of the clubroom so that those people who are musically inclined may give vent to such talents.

All Comforts of Home

One may curl up in one of the big comfortable chairs and read a pleasant light cigarette and enjoy a good book in quiet and restful surroundings. Tiring of this you may go into the game room, drop a slug in the juke box and enjoy the dubious blowings of the machine gun. If you don't care for dancing you may play cards, shuffleboard, pool, billiards, play the piano or select any of the various forms of amusement.

Lawrence Supervisor

Mrs. Marguerite Snyder Lawrence, the supervisor, makes your visit much more enjoyable by failing to

General

Casualty Lists.

Note—There is no objection to publication of information about casualties from a newspaper's local field, obtained from nearest of kin, but it is requested that in such cases, specific military units and exact locations be mentioned. There is no objection to identifying naval casualties with their ships, after such ships have been officially reported damaged or lost.

Information disclosing the new location of national archives, or of public or private treasures.

Names of persons arrested, questioned, or interned as enemy aliens; names of persons moved to resettlement centers; location and description of places of internment and resettlement.

Note—The Department of Justice or the Provost Marshal General is the appropriate authority for disclosing names of persons arrested, questioned, or interned as enemy aliens; the official in charge, for names of persons moved to resettlement centers; the Office of Censorship, for location and description of internment camps; the official in charge, for location and description of resettlement centers.

Information about production, amounts, dates and method of delivery, destination or routes, of Lend-Lease war material.

Presumptive disclosure of diplomatic negotiations or conversations.

Information about the movement of munitions or other war materials.

Information about the movement of the President of the United States or of official military or diplomatic missions of the United States or of any other nation opposing the Axis powers—routes, schedules, destinations, within or without continental United States; movements of ranking army or naval officers and staffs on official missions; movements of other individuals or units on military or diplomatic missions.

Note—All requests in the Code apply to advertising matter, news letters, corporation reports, letters to the editor, personal and society news (which often disclose identity or movement of military or diplomatic missions or activities), columns, etc.

Information concerning any phase of the war seems to come from doubtful authority, or to be in conflict with the general aims of these requests; or if special restrictions requested locally or otherwise by various authorities seem unreasonable or out of harmony with this summary, it is recommended that the question be submitted at once to the Office of Censorship.

In addition, if any newspaper, magazine, or other agency or individual handling news or special articles desires circulation or advice as to what disclosures might or might not aid the enemy, the Office of Censorship will cooperate gladly. Such inquiries should be made addressed to the Office of Censorship, Washington. Telephone Executive 2300.

Should further additions or modifications of this summary seem feasible and desirable from time to time, the industry will be advised.

THE OFFICE OF CENSORSHIP,
June 15, 1942. Byron Price, Director.

Mrs. Garten Presents Life of Paul Revere to Club

"Paul Revere got off his horse in Boston's latest biography," said Mrs. Kathryn Turner Garten in dramatic tones, to the Carbondale Woman's Club, Tuesday, September 22.

Mrs. Garten, who failed to present a critical review of the well known biography, told vivaciously the life of a very versatile and amusing character, Paul Revere. By stressing the fact that most Americans have of ways pictured Paul Revere as the man on the horse who raced madly across New England countryside, Mrs. Garten explained that he was also a person. A man who lived and loved during very troubled times. She added that it was very appropriate to publish a book of this type during war time as it served as just one more example of the recurring pattern of war and the despair that inevitably follows war.

LOUISE PAIN, CERAMICS EXPERT, JOINS SOUTHERN'S ART DEPT.

Miss Louise Paine, the supervisor of the Ceramics Division of the S.I.N.U. Art Department, is a person who is doing much to bring art closer to the people of Southern Illinois. Her presence on the college art faculty, together with the presence of Mr. Bohrod, makes the art department a very distinguished one, besides giving S.I.N.U. students very excellent training.

Instructs Community, Too

In addition to teaching a pottery class of college students, Miss Paine teaches a class for members of the community. "I think these classes have done a lot for the people who needed them for food. It was much to enjoy themselves. They are beginning to realize that they don't have to be artists to be able to turn out something really nice. After all, originally, pottery was a craft, not an art. People made bowls and other earthenware because they needed them for food. It was much later that pottery making became an art."

Friend of Bohrod's

Miss Paine, a native of Chicago, who has been in Carbondale over a year, likes Southern Illinois. Also, she is a good friend of Mr. and Mrs. Bohrod, both of whom she met while in Chicago. She became acquainted with Mr. Bohrod while demonstrating pottery-making in the window of a large showroom in Chicago during a National Art Week several years ago. Mr. Bohrod met Miss Paine at a rather unfortunate artist's meeting at which her car was accidentally burned when it was placed on a storehouse which was burning. Short, dark-haired Miss Paine had to go out into the winter night wearing a much too large overcoat.

Long Technical Education

Miss Paine has been going to art school ever since she was eight years old. At that time she attended classes for children offered by the Art Institute in Chicago every Saturday. After she graduated from high school, she entered Chicago Art Institute day school, graduating four years later with a scholarship to continue her work in sculpture.

After her formal training, Miss Paine did much free handing for the art institute in Chicago every Saturday. Then she worked in the studio of Eugene Deutsch, well-known ceramic artist. All this time she was furthering her training. Much of her work was placed on exhibition, and she won a Chicago Women's aid prize for a stone carving.

Has Held Various Positions

From 1939 to 1941 Miss Paine was head of the House Ceramic Department. Here she taught luncheon classes of both adults and children. As the rates were less than those charged by other institutes, Hall House reached people having small incomes. Each had to be limited to thirty members finally, and many people were placed on waiting lists. Miss Paine has done ceramic sculpture for schools in and around Chicago. She has two six-foot panels in bas-relief in O'Toole school in Chicago, and two more in Oak Park High school in Aurora. She has done ceramic work for Crow Island school of Winnetka and made drinking fountains, wood carvings, and a bronze sun dial for other high schools. Besides that, Miss Paine made back-ground for snake cages at Brookfield Zoo. She made a temple background for an Indian cobra, another for a green manne and other snakes.
